INSIGHT VOLUME 2

OCTOBER
TO DECEMBER
2017-18

Dear Readers,

I am sure that you would have gone through the previous edition, which was the maiden edition.

Continuing the sequence, here is the second edition of the Newsletter, in your hands.

Several events and happenings have taken place in the intervening period since the last edition. Weather and climate have become colder, with the onset of winter.

But at Eklaurya Public School, there has been a host of activities, in the times gone by. Management has always given a green signal for several activities that cater to student growth and development. Students have stepped out to new places and new surroundings on excursions, field trips and exchange visits to other schools. Learning thus became holistic.

The students have displayed their skills and talents in the activities performed, in the school premises.

Read on. See the pictures. Feel the thrill.

As before and always, feedback and suggestion are welcome.

Hoping that this second edition of the Newsletter would turn out to be engaging and engrossing.

By the time the 3rd edition reaches you, till then, good bye.

Warmly yours,

Mrs. Vijaya Ravi - (Principal / Editor)

“Understanding your child's perspective”

These moments are more precious than anything else in this world. Every teacher, educator and parent must read and make them their behavioural habits. It's our moral and ethical responsibility.

1. Put away your phone in their presence or avoid talking too much on phone when they are with you
2. Pay attention to what they are saying.
3. Accept their opinions.
4. Engage in their conversations.
5. Always praise them, when warranted.
6. Share good news with them.
7. Avoid sharing bad news with them, unless there is some learning.
8. Keep in remembrance the good things they did.
9. If they repeat a story, listen like it's the first time they tell it.
10. Don't bring up painful memories from the past.
11. Avoid side conversations in their presence.
12. Don't belittle/criticize their opinions and thoughts.
13. Avoid cutting them off when they speak.
14. Give them the power of leadership when they are present.
15. Avoid raising your voice at them constantly, be very assertive but calmly
16. Don't speak ill of them to the point where others speak ill of them too.
17. Keep them in prayers & meditations always possible and teach them to pray & do meditation.
18. Avoid seeming to be bored or tired of them in their presence.
19. Avoid laughing at their faults/mistakes.
20. Choose your words carefully when speaking with them.
21. Call them by names they like.
22. Make them your priority above anything.

Children are parents' treasure and their most precious gift on this land. They might have seen the world lesser than you but they see it in a different way, which you need to appreciate. Listen to them and try giving them as much time as you can.

The roots of education are bitter but the fruit is sweet. Education is not preparation for life, education is life itself.

I feel honoured to be the part of Eklavya family. We always put one step forward to add something worthwhile to our students as well as teachers. It is our pleasure that Eklavya Public School. Kids Kingdom maintain its strong relationship with parents too by different media.

We develop social skills like how to listen, nice talk, brave talk, taking turns, acceptance of multi-cultural difference, apologies when to say please and thank you how to speak in a group, helping each other learning compassion and empathy.

“Discipline is the bridge between goals and accomplishment.”

Discipline is an important part of the family, the military and teaching. Discipline is not only important for school children but it is equally important for everyone of us. Nobody can be well-educated without discipline. In school education, discipline is a set of rules and regulations that remind us of the proper code of behaviour. It is also for self-improvement and self-development. And if there is lack of discipline than it will lead an individual to frustration and self-loathing. So to keep the journey excellent “DISCIPLINE” is must to reach the desired destination.

Mrs. Sapna Gothi
Section Head
Pre-Primary Eng. Med.

The core aim of education is to foster all round development of a child. It can be achieved through curricular and co-curricular activities. The aesthetic development like spiritual and moral, values, physical growth, creativity and many more are backed up by co-curricular activities only. It gives the students an opportunity to develop particular skills and exhibit their non-academic abilities.

Role of co-curricular activities in a student's life can not be put in to words easily. But it is very necessary for all round development of a child.
